James Minnis

*In whom his students find those old virtues that minister as types and signs of the broader culture, the finer manners, the deeper loves, and the holier reverence, that Henderson-
Brown College desires for her Men and her Women.*

DR. JAMES MIMMS WORKMAN

F o r e w o r d

"And behold, there appeared a Star in the Heavens," and each year has seen a new STAR appear in the world of collegedom until there are in all sixteen. During our college days we have chanced to glance through these volumes and have heard our predecessors speak of the good old days when they were in college and have seen them turn with reviving memories through these volumes. May the publication of this seventeenth volume of this wonderful series bring to the present generation of students those fond recollections which are so dear to remember, and in the future may it bring from oblivion memories of your college days, both good and bad, but may you forget the sorrows because they came not. The editors of this volume have tried to compile a book that would be welcomed and cherished by all who read it. And if we have done this our paramount aim is attained. To the student body and to the friends and patrons of our beloved college we present this volume. Read carefully and judge accordingly.

DR. B. S. FOSTER, M.A., LL.B., LL.D.
(Many years Senior Class Sponsor)

"Dr. Foster has taught Henderson-Brown to love humanity by loving the highest; to love purity in life and in every college day, because only the pure in heart are at home with God, only they know spiritual vision; to hate sham and hypocrisy as the deadliest enemies of happiness, and by his simplicity reflects the divinity of sincerity. Those who intimately realize the heritage of his life are ever conscious of the benediction of his teaching, the consecration of his living, his full abandon for creating within the hearts of his students a passion for the enduring possessions of the soul. How richly, how divinely, he has forgotten himself into an immortality of love. It is with affectionate reverence that he is called 'The Grand Old Man of Henderson'."

MATT ELLIS, A.B., Garland Lockesburg, Arkansas

M. C. A., '21; Society Orator, '21.

*"But we are all men in our natures;
Frail and capable of our flesh; few are angels."
"Man is one world and hath another to attend him."*

"Jack-of-all-trades, good at none," does not apply to "Uncle Matt," who has made a success of everything that came his way in college. From deep editorials to "Star" making, Matt has always been at the head. He is experienced with every department of college, especially with third floor. As senior president he suffered the trials and tribulations of a Kerensky, but came through without turning absolutely gray-headed. Unpublished herewith is another honor he possesses. Matt wears the biggest shoe in the Senior Class; also the biggest hat. Several more years hanging around the southeast corner of the basement would probably make him grow fat.

Senior Class

SALLIE MAUDE ROSS, A.B., Philomathean Okolona, Ark.

Vice-President of Freshman Class, '18; President Sophomore Class, '19; President of Junior Class, '20; Treasurer of Society, '18-'19; Literary Critic of Society, '19; Censor of Society, '20; President of Society, '20; Literary Critic of Society, '20; Oracle Staff, '21; Treasurer Senior Class, '21; Tau Beta Chi Delta, '19, '20, '21.

"If she be there, there is happiness, too."

"The sweetest thing that ever grew Beside a human door."

This sweet little lass dislikes the name of "Sallie" unless Maud trails along, like another Maud trails Si. She was dignified enough to be class president for two years. Save for the time she insisted that Washington was the Confederate President, she has made a splendid record, and formed many lasting friendships. Her hobby is Bola. The saddest moments of her college life were during the awful ordeal of the senior girls at the Falk recital. She spends much spare time with a youngster who has an ambition that she be a Taylor, but she confidentially said to us, "I'll never marry."

KATHLEEN HEARIN, A.B., Philomathean Arkadelphia, Ark.

"Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eye; in every gesture, dignity and love."

*"And her pretty locks hang on her temples like a golden fleece,
And many Jasons come in quest of her."*

A modest maid with a heart of gold. True to her friends, straightforward with everyone, Kathleen has made many of her college companions richer by her acquaintance. She is faithful and loyal, and will give the best she has to a friend—except, perhaps, her heart. This little thing has been much sought after, but in vain, although it is said that there's a favored one elsewhere. Even the Key to it is now missing. She finished in expression last year, but came back to take an A.B. with the Class of '21.

Senior Class

SARA LOUISE PORTER, B.A., Philomathean North Little Rock, Ark.
 Louriferroe-Drowry College, Springfield, Mo., '17-'18; Parasite Club, '18, '19; Treasurer Tau Beta Chi Delta, '20; Treasurer Society, '19, '20; Vice-President Society, '19, '20; Oracle Staff, '20; Secretary Junior Class, '20; Secretary Senior Class, '21; Sergeant-at-Arms Society, '19; Secretary Education Campaign, '20; President Society, '20; Secretary Society, '20; Debate Council, '21; President Y. T. C. Club, '21; Intersociety Essayist, '21.

"Marks, not men, have been my aim."

"Give me the liberty to know, to utter, and to argue freely according to conscience above all liberties."

"Skatty Lou" will tell you that disgust with one's fellowman is the spice of college life. She has read so much history that she is miserable if new history isn't being created about her. If there's anything mysterious going on 'round-about, look out for Louise to be near. Math and physics were the sauer kraut of her college senior menu, but she never failed to cram them at the opportune time. She may have loved, but we never knew it.

ELLEN BOULWARE MARTIN, B.A., B.O., Upsilon Phi Horatio, Ark.

Sergeant-at-Arms Society, '18; Secretary Society, '18; Vice-President Sophomore Class, '19; Vice-President Society, '19; Intersociety Reader, '19; Secretary Tau Beta Chi Delta, '20; Le Cercle Francais, '20; Secretary Society, '20; Oracle Staff, '20; Star Staff, '20; Winner Intersociety Essay Medal, '20; President Society, '21; Student Body Secretary, '21; Assistant Editor Oracle, '21; Debating Council, '21; Secretary Tau Beta Chi Delta, '21; Senior Historian, '21; Basketball Squad, '21.

"Give me audience for a word or two."

"O thoughts of men accurs'd!

"Past, and to come, seem best; things present, worse."

This petite little maid hails from the strawberry belt. At first she was restless, but soon she settled into a "brown study." "Ipse" once starred as "The Fool" in "Twelfth Night." Since then she has been living down her name, but a classmate says she'll never do it as long as she plucks her eyebrows. Bola patiently waited three years for senior privileges, but, after all, they did her little good. This little girl is a star on the stage. She has a craving for Bohemian life. Maybe her dream will come true—if she doesn't marry soon.

Senior Class

BERNIE MILLS, A.B., Upsilon Phi Arkadelphia, Arkansas

"Even her failings lean to virtue's side."

"All the men in the world could not make me lose an hour."

If we didn't see Bernie in our classes we would hardly know that she was in school, but the faculty always knows that she is there when they want a question answered. We don't know what she plans as a vocation, but we know that she'll make good in it, or else make some man a good wife.

MYAL CRAWFORD GREENE, B.A., B.S., Garland Arkadelphia, Arkansas

College Reporter '18-'19; Oracle Staff '18-'19; Basketball Team '18-'19-'20-'21; Champion Class Basketball Team '18-'19-'20-'21; Society Officer, ten quarters, during '18-'19-'20-'21; Led Scoring Basketball Team '18-'20; Baseball Team '18-'19-'20; Secretary "H" Association '19; All-State Shortstop '19; President Sons and Daughters Club '19-'20; Winner Sue F. Mooney Short Story Prize '19; Assistant Business Manager Star '20; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '20-'21; Captain Basketball Team '20; Make-up Editor Oracle '20; Member "Y" Handbook Staff '20; President Society '19-'20; Football Team '18-'19-'20; Treasurer Junior Class '20; Triangular Debate '20; Winning Team Inter-Society Debate '20; All-State Forward '20; President College Boys' Sunday School Class '20; Vice-President "H" Association '20; Best All-round Student '20; Best All-round Athlete '20; French Club '20; Editor Oracle '21; Assistant Editor Star '21; Vice-President Senior Class '21; Debating Council '21; Manager Basketball Team '21; Class Prophet '21; Inter-Society Debater '21; Member State College Press Association '21; Will be the first son of a graduate to receive degree from college.

Like you a student grave and learned; of noble family; a student constant in spirit, garnished and decked in all those things that do become a student? Then will you look with favor on Crawford Greene.

Senior Class

AMY D. MOORE, A.B., Philomathean Prescott, Ark.

Secretary of Class, '18, '19; Vice-President of Class, '20; Yell Leader, '19, '21; Co-Ed Basketball, '18, '19, '20, '21; Reddie Six team, '19; Winner Co-Ed Basketball "H," '20; Oracle Staff, '19; Star Staff, '20, '21; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '19; Tau Beta Chi Delta, '20, '21; Sergeant-at-Arms Society, '20; Secretary Society, '19; Treasurer Society, '20, '21; President Society, '19, '20; La Cercle Francais, '20.

*"Not a little Moore in height,
Not a little Moore in knowledge;
She is one of the highest highbrows
Who ever entered college."*

"Hence, man, thou vain, deluding joy."

Ames would get out of bed at midnight to start a fuss, but she'd stay up all night to help this fussing friend out of trouble. As yell leader, Amy always had the "pep," but she was a bottle of chili sauce the time she hopped into the Hendrix game and turned pending defeat into victory for the Reddies. We fear Amy has loved, but we know it has never been serious. For some unknown reason the basketball girls call her "Bones."

MARY ALICE SHINN, Expression, Philomathean Russellville, Ark.

*"What's in a name? That which we call a rose
By another name would smell as sweet."*

"She has the social smile and the sympathetic tear."

Some say she has a childish voice, but we know she has womanish ways. She's wise, but not yet a Sage. Mary Alice has been with us only two years, but has made good in that time. She used to play basketball, but the naughty boys would yell for "Miss Ankle," and she didn't like it. Aside from her work and senior activities, she has managed to keep up a correspondence course from Vanderbilt University.

Senior Class

ZIRLINE TRICE, Expression, Philomathean Cotton Plant, Ark.

"No padlocks, bolts, or bars can secure a maiden so well as her own reserve."

"None but herself can be her parallel."

Poise and dignity, mingled with sweetness and a touch of reserve, describes Zirline, one of the best liked girls in the dormitory. She is efficient, steady and dependable. Her diversions during her college life were meek, young, and green things. In the days of the S. A. T. C. she became known as "Briton." With much pleading she will relate the story of this nickname. One of the most popular girls of the Class of '21, Zirline has made a host of friends.

MARTHA WILLIAMS, H.E., Philomathean Arkadelphia, Ark.

"When she will, she will; when she won't, she won't, and that's the end of it."

"Dreams are true while they last, and do we not live in dreams?"

"Hannah" is a daughter of Arkadelphia, coming to us from the high school Class of '17. She started out on a literary course, but becoming converted to the old adage that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, she took up home economics. All Martha's high school chums have been getting married, but she has held loyally to her course. Being a good cook herself, she will never be at loss when the cook leaves suddenly.

Senior Class

INEZ WOLFF, Piano, Philomathean Bingen, Arkansas

Member of French Club, '20; Secretary Society, '21; Corresponding Secretary Society, '21; Member Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '19, '20; Monitor for Student Council, '21.

What is she? A phantom of delight in whose countenance meet records sweet and promises fair; a being combining endurance, beauty, strength, and skill; a student with reason firm and so temperate a will that the hearts of teachers and schoolmates alike luxuriate in pleasing thoughts of her.

ELBERT MOODY, B.S., Garland Glenwood, Arkansas

*"A man among men,
Ten men among freshmen."*

"There was none like him, though there were many imitations."

President Freshman Class, '18; Varsity Basketball, '18, '19, '20, '21; All-State Center, '20; Member Champion Class Team, '18, '19, '20, '21; President Society, '19; Critic Society, '19; Secretary Society, '19; Football, '19, '20, '21; Captain Football, '21; Captain Second All-State Football Team, '21; Treasurer Sophomore Class, '19; Student Council, '19, '21; Editor-in-Chief Oracle, '19; Assistant Editor Star, '19; Society Officer, '20; Star Staff, '20; Track Team, '20, '21; Captain Track, '20; Holder State Record Discus throw; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '19, '20; Manager Baseball Team, '21; Secretary-Treasurer H. Association, '21; Secretary-Treasurer "Demons," '19; Business Manager Star, '21.

Someone has said that Pike County has only two products: Moonshine and children. In Moody we have the cream of the latter, possessing the kick of the former—an athlete, a humorist, a true friend, a MAN. He loved one in three years and then three in one year. It is singular that he picks girls with a "G" in their name. "Climax" once tried to pitch baseball, but became so disgusted with his control that he sidestepped and broke the college and state discus record. His senior hobby was to have a Guest. The peculiarities of the college code prohibited him and the other senior boys from date privileges, except those enjoyed by the preps and underclassmen.

Senior Class

SADIE FISH, H.E., Upsilon Phi Dumas, Ark.

Censor Society, '18; Treasurer Society, '20; Corresponding Secretary Society, '21; Member Oracle Staff, '21.

"Who is't can read a woman?"

"You can't catch old birds with chaff."

Sadie says she's the original Fish of our class, but she's not. She has an innate knowledge of mankind that enables her to cope with the keenest of masculine wits. She seldom speaks, but once in a while the class firecracker explodes most unexpectedly. Sadie has a kind, loving heart, as has been shown by her generosity in dispensing dainty delicacies to the hungry youth who pester the Domestic Science Department.

WILLIE AGNES CRAWFORD, B.M., Philomathean Carlisle, Ark.

Certificate of Proficiency, Kidd-Key Conservatory, '19; Music Critic Society, '19, '20; Vice-President Society, '19, '20; Oracle Staff, '20; Le Cercle Francaise, '20; Tau Beta Chi Delta, '20, '21; Certificate in Voice, '21; State Music Teacher's Licentiate Degree, '20; President Society, '21.

"Her fingers shame the ivory keys,

They dance so lightly along;

The bloom upon her portal lips

Is sweeter than the song."

"The choicest things in life come in small packages."

Billy has only been with us two years, but she's found a little niche in our hearts. The privileges Billy has enjoyed have been envied by all the dorm girls, but we wonder sometimes if she really enjoys them when he is away off. Agnes spent the best part of her senior year keeping on the good side of Dr. Harwood.

Senior Class

MARY ALICE THOMASSON, H.E., Philomathean Arkadelphia, Ark.

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man."

"Silence is sweeter than speech."

The daughter of a daughter of Henderson, Mary Alice has inherited her loyalty for this institution. We hear little of Mary Alice, but the prettiest and best of things grow in obscure places. She is another of the well-known cooks of '21 who worked hard under Miss Ramsey, the jolly senior sponsor. She says she'll get to a class meeting some day, if it has to be Commencement morning.

JULIA WOODULL, H.E., Philomathean Prescott, Ark.

*"Languor is not in your heart,
Weakness is not in your mind,
Weariness not on your brow."*

"We may be as good as we please, if we please to be good."

Julia is another of those wise maidens who know man and who can cook tidbits that win his heart. She is one of the three Prescott girls in the Class of '21, which claims the honor of being the "best class ever." Julia can tell you that the course of true love never runs smooth, but there's always someone awaiting his mate.

Senior Class

CLARA JEAN, H.E., Upsilon Phi Atlanta, Ark.

Secretary Freshman Class, '19; Member French Club, '20; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '20, '21; Vice-President D. P. Club, '21; President Student Council, '21; Star Staff, '21; Corresponding Secretary Society, '18; Censor Society, '19; Recording Secretary Society, '19; Corresponding Secretary Society, '20; Vice-President Society, '21; President Society, '21.

*"An intellect of highest worth,
A heart of purest gold."*

"Quiet in appearance, with motives unknown."

Henderson-Brown has had several Jeans, but Clara is one of the peppiest of them all. She loved and fussed, she fussed and loved—we can tell you no more, for Herbert is now gone. Clara can take a few words and twist them into a poem as well as she can mix a few ingredients and get a delicious dessert. As a groom in the senior vaudeville she was a big success, even though she left the minister's fee in the pants which the faculty had barred her from wearing, and the bride had to produce the wherewithal.

LULA BETH GEE, Voice, Philomathean Prescott, Ark.

Treasurer Voice Class, '19; J. A. Club, '19; Secretary Society, '20; Vice-President of Voice Class, '20; Censor Society, '20; Tau Beta Chi Delta, '20, '21; Literary Critic Society, '21; President Society, '21.

*"Love is the greatest of educators."
(I am educated.)*

"A rosebud set with wilful thorns."

The last of a well-known family that has been emblazoned on Henderson-Brown banners for several years. "Boochie" is a brave girl, having tamed the school Tiger during her first year. Since then she has cleverly handled many suitors. Besides a lovely voice, she is possessed of a pleasing personality that has made her many friends during her three years here. There have been many vivid moments in her life, but we will wager that she will always remember the pajama dance and the "O Death, where is thy sting?" episode. Some say her swan song in these halls will be "Prohibition Blues."

Senior Class

MAE BARLOW, H.E., Upsilon Phi North Little Rock, Ark.

Vice-President Freshman Class, '19; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '21; Corresponding Secretary of Society, '20; Recording Secretary of Society, '21; President D. P. Club, '21.

"Why don't the men propose, Mama; why don't the men propose?"

"Now, I pray thee, do not call me a coquette."

When Mae first came to H.-B. C. she had a sister to watch over her every move. Despite this, she fell deeply in love. Now, with her sister gone, she ceases to love. She's as faithful as the trusty knife that bears her name. We've heard of Mary and her little lamb, but Henderson-Brown has a Mary and her senior Mae. Mae says she lives in North Little Rock and not in Argenta. Let me whisper it to you: Mae can cook just like her fellow H. E. seniors.

MATTIE THORNTON, H.E., Upsilon Phi Thornton, Ark.

Co-Ed Basketball Team, '20; Winner of Co-Ed Basketball "H," '20; D. A. C. Club, '21; La Cercle Francais, '20; Oracle Staff, '21; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '21; Vice-President Society, '20; Secretary of Society, '21; President of Society, '21; Treasurer of Student Body, '21.

"Thou art a woman,

And that is saying the best and the worst of thee."

"At once the delight and terror of man."

Miss Thornton came from Thornton, but we will not express our opinion as to whether she will ever live in the town of Ellis. It seems that she is fond of the "Matt" in her name, as well as of the "Matt" in the Senior Class. Mattie can already cook good enough to get married, but says she will do this for "Pa" a while yet.

WILLIAM WHITESIDE, B.A. McKaskil, Arkansas
 "Iron's" first few years on the campus were rather uneventful. He is now a good debater. The "Queen" is his goal.

MARY GANTT, B.A. Magnolia, Arkassas
 "Pious Pete" is as attractive as diligent. She is busy, but finds time for a bit of correspondence with a certain "Biff." Oh!

EDWIN STITT, B.A. Arkadelphia, Arkansas
 "Stitt" is a good example of why girls leave home, both before and after marriage. But he is a good student.

RICKS STRONG, B.A. Thornton, Arkansas
 "Here I am. You are the judge."

EFFIE BRIDGES, B.A. Arkadelphia, Arkansas
 "Beware of all, but most of all beware of man!"

CLARA MARKS, B.A. Kingsland, Arkansas
 Miss Marks always has a smile for the deserver—one that wins. She is very popular, and worthy of so being. A real argument for co-education.

ROY STEELMAN, B.A. Thornton, Arkansas
 A friend to all, faithful, diligent, always ready to serve.

Junior Class

JAMES GREENE, B.A. Donaldson, Ark.

"Jimmie" is a popular student, better described by the lines:
 "True wit is Nature to advantage dressed,
 What oft was thought,
 But ne'er so well expressed."

HELEN CROCKER, Piano Lewisville, Arkansas

Helen is a fine student; a lovable character.

IRENE RICHARDSON, Piano Amity, Arkansas

"Of musicians and artists, the public to please,
 We have quite a few, and she's one of these."

ANDREW CHRISTIE, A.B. Kerlin, Arkansas

"Blessed is the man who has found his work."
 "Honesty is the best policy" is his motto.

PEARL MILLER, Violin Heber Springs, Arkansas

She is always in a pleasant mood; has won no mean fame as a violinist. "The world is hers. She can do as she chooses."

PAULINE COLSON, Expression Kingsland, Arkansas

"To any class of any kind she'd be an acquisition;
 She's amicable to everyone, it's just her disposition."

MARIE EVANS, Expression Dermott, Arkansas

Marie has starred in Society, Studies, and Religion. We miss her in every organization, and truly hope she will be back next year.

IRENE BAILEY, B.A. Arkadelphia, Arkansas

"A shy, demure, young person, with a quiet, mouse-like air;
 Unless you hear her name called, you scarcely know she's there."

Football of 1920

RIM, determined, fighting, scorning bruises, bumps, and jolts, ever after their man, often bloody, with tears in their eyes, but with a spirit of "Never give up" circulating from each heart into every portion of the body, the little Reddies of 1920 proved their worth to the world in such a manner that the press of the state lauded them as the "fightin'est team Arkansas ever had."

Putting forth every effort, inspired by that incomparable, intangible something that only Jimmy Haygood can instill into one's soul, the Reddies braved the yawning chasms among the shadows of the disastrous season of 1919, and came out of the last battle with hearts happy and with everyone proud of them.

Each man had done his very best. Could one expect more? Figures cannot tell the tale of the season as it should be told. The writer cannot grasp words to pay a fitting tribute to the team. Poets sing of their fair loved ones, historians record brave feats of past years, authors make their characters immortal, orators reach flowery heights, and singers sweetly tell the tale of bygone events, but methinks that no such embryo author as the writer could mould fitting phrases and word pictures in honor of our team of 1920. The whole story is told eloquently, flowery, and worthy enough when it is said that, after it was all over, Coach Jimmy's famous smile broadened as he said: "I'm proud of them. Every man gave the best that he had."

The student body of last year looked forward toward the fall of 1920 in eager anticipation of the return of Jimmy Haygood to the college as athletic mentor. Haygood and the smile appeared at the first of school. Soon the low thud of the pigskin and the bark of signals was heard. Days turned into weeks as fat hardened into muscle, and a ragged bunch was moulded into a smooth-working machine by Mr. Haygood.

The Magnolia Aggies appeared first upon the scene on October 4th. The Aggies scored first with massed attacks on the line. In the second quarter Greene, at safety, received a punt on the Reddie thirty-yard line, and, wiggling and squirming across and up the field, planted the ball safely under the goal. Goal was missed. With score 7-6 against the Reddies, things looked bad. However, in the last quarter the Reddies got within striking distance, and, after a consultation, Greene dropped back and booted a drop-kick through the goal for the winning points.

Shortly after the Aggie game the Athletic Association tossed a bombshell into the Reddie camp by suspending Greene and Taylor, veteran backfield men, for playing summer baseball. Taylor was suspended until November 1, 1920, while Greene was suspended until June 15, 1921, or the rest of his college career, as he graduates in June.

The game with the State Normal at Conway came next. Under agreement both teams played suspended men. The final outcome was 19-13 in favor of the Normal. The game was weird and loosely played. The Reddies fumbled repeatedly, losing many chances to score. The two touchdowns were made by the two ends, Greene scoring on a fumble and Rush on a forward pass.

Next came the game at Batesville with Arkansas College. The long night trip had a bad effect upon the team, although they won, 7-0. The Reddie goal was never in danger. Several potential touchdowns were lost by fumbles of passes over the goal line. Grady, taking Greene's place at end, carried the winning touchdown over. Both Taylor and Greene were out of this game on account of the ruling of the association.

Hendrix, the scoreless wonders, chesty from 1919, appeared on Williams Field against the Reddies November 5. The Dogs made their first score of the season when Quarterback Carroll had the ball knocked out of his hands while attempting a forward pass. This freak touchdown demoralized the Reddies temporarily and before they were aware of the fact the Bulldogs had smuggled over another score. The Reddies recovered and played one of the hardest battles ever staged here. In the closing moments of the game the ball was carried down the field, and Grady scored on a perfect pass from Young. The game ended 14-6 for the Hendrix lads, but the Reddies proved that 1919 was just an off year.

The Russellville Aggies, with the touted John Tucker, appeared next on November 15th. With Jewell McLean out for scholastic reasons, Rush and Howell with injuries, the crippled Reddies resisted successfully the heavy Aggies for one half. However, a series of trick plays and fake formations placed the visitors in position to score two touchdowns. The game ended Russellville, 13; Reddies, 0.

Next came the finale of the season on Thanksgiving. Current Ouachita dopesters gave the Reddies the little end of it all before the game. One could fill this whole volume on this game. Suffice it to say, however: "The Tigers failed to cross the Reddie line." A place-kick in the last quarter gave the victory to the Baptists, 3-0. But Coach Haygood and the old Reddies of yore who came back for the game had inculcated the impassable spirit in the eleven little men, and time after time the Tigers were hurled back from beneath the goal. Truly, never a more wonderful game of ball was played in Arkansas than that of Thanksgiving Day by the following eleven men, who fought every minute of the battle: Moody, Chambers, Key, Howell, Zachary, Rowland, Grady, Carroll, Taylor, J. McLean, and S. McLean.

It all ended a little sadly, but we were all proud and happy. It was a hard defeat for Captain Moody to suffer in his last game as a Reddie, but great credit is due to this chap, who played every minute of three seasons and led the wonderful little team of 1920. Moody was named tackle on the All-State college eleven.

The season of 1920 could have been better, but there is nothing to be ashamed of. The only regret perhaps is that Greene, in his senior year, did not get to play on account of his suspension. Undoubtedly he would have been of some help to the team as a quarterback. Although playing in only two games, he scored the most points of the season for the Reddies. The scores were made as follows: Greene, 16; Grady, 12; Rush, 6; Young, 1. Reddie opponents scored 56 points.

Fifteen players and Manager Ellis were awarded letters and sweaters for the season. The sweaters were presented to the team at chapel on the morning of January 13 by Coach Haygood. The following were awarded letters and sweaters: Captain Elbert Moody, center; Olin Chambers and Freeman Key, guards; William Howell and Guy Zachary, tackles; Ben Rush, Crawford Greene, Hercle Grady, and Bo Rowland, ends; Fletcher Young and Joe Carroll, quarterbacks; George Taylor, fullback; Sage McLean, right half; Jewel McLean, left half; George Workman, substitute center; Matt Ellis, manager.

Considerable credit should be given the Dragons, who worked hard for the team. The Dragons received many knocks and bruises, but they remained loyal to the last. The graduation of Rowland, Zachary, and Grady to the varsity showed that they had some good material.

The team and squad were guests at several social functions following the close of the season. At one of these, a supper given by Miss Ramsey and her girls, Sage McLean was elected captain of the team for 1921. The selection was popular, as McLean is a clean-cut, hard-hitting man who has proved his mettle on the gridiron.

The student body is to be commended for its loyal support of the team. The yells were clever and just as good as ever. The team was strong for "Manager Mother Matt," who worked hard in their interest and between times led the yells.

With this last paragraph the season of 1920 becomes history; but, before we close, let us express the boys' wish that Coach Jimmy and his smile will remain at Henderson-Brown forever. Let us also look forward to the not far distant day when he will have returned into his old place as coach of "Arkansas' championship team.

For the second consecutive year the Reddiettes have won the championship of Arkansas. Last year it took an exciting game with Hendrix to settle the championship. This year's encounter was a walk-away, 40-11 for Coach Proctor's proteges. The team this year was one of the most powerful co-ed teams that has ever been assembled in the state. Excellent team work, good guarding, fast work by the centers and excellent goal shooting accounted for the one-sided victories of the girls. Much praise should go to Coach Proctor, who watched over the boys and had time enough to keep the girls working hard.

Among the fast teams vanquished this year was Pine Bluff, claimants of the high school championship, who were snowed under, 50-5. Only one regular player graduates this year, so prospects are bright for another championship team next year. The team has not been defeated during the past two years.

Baseball Squad

J. R. HAYGOOD Coach

BEN RUSH Captain

As this is written it is difficult to chronicle the prospects of the Reddies in the great national sport. There are four letter men in school—Taylor, Rush and Young, infielders, and Stinnett, outfielder. At present it is expected that Dunn and Bush, last year's reversible battery, will be back for the season. If so, the Reddies should have a strong combination, as there are several prospective new men in school. Greene, veteran infielder, is out, but is ineligible for association games for his summer baseball proclivities.

Among the prospective new men are Frank McDonald, "Bo" Rowland, "Topsy" Hearin, infielders; Joe Stitt and "Chigger" Jacobs, pitchers; Ike Rowland, Hercle Grady. From last year's squad are Carter, who twirled two varsity games; Graves and Jones, infielders; Rogers and Hollingsworth, outfielders. The usual college schedule is to be played, with probably several non-association games.

Track Team

J. R. HAYGOOD Coach

W. J. WHITESIDE Manager

Coach Himmy started track work early in January with a good squad. This year's squad will be centered around Moody, Rush, Page and Stitt, veterans. Moody cracked the college discus record last year. He is expected to count for a number of H.-B. C. points in the weights and possible jumps this year. Rush, who copped the one-half mile and two-mile last year, is expected to repeat again this year. Sidney Page, the fleet Indian who won the mile run last year, is out to break the mile record this spring. Stitt, a veteran who did not get in shape last year, is expected to win several places in the distance events. At the present writing the Reddies seem weak in the sprints. Several new men have been showing up well in the weights, jumps and pole vaults. C. Jones, who won a place in last year's high jump, will probably lead the jumpers. It is probable that a cross-country run from the Caddo River to the college campus will be inaugurated by Coach Haygood as a special spring event.

Philomathean Literary Society

To have a finer spirit, to grow somewhat in wisdom and knowledge, to approach each year a little nearer to our ideal—this has always been the aim of the Philomathean Literary Society. We feel that we have really attained our purpose this year. Our annual carnival was a great success, both from an artistic and a financial standpoint. The Philomathean Scholarship Medal, which was offered this year for the first time, promises to raise our standard of literary excellence. However, the work upon which the Philos most pride themselves has been accomplished in the weekly meetings, which have manifested a keener wit, more original ideas, and a more conservative line of study than ever before.

Since our great ideal is growth, we are not content to rest upon what we have already done, but are looking forward to what we will do. Although many of our most loyal members will not return next year, they will leave the Philos spirit as a heritage to those who must carry on the work already begun.

CRAWFORD AND BYBEE STAGE A FISTICUFF

Business Student and Academic Youngster Disagree Over Trivial Matter

One morning, ere the last of the students had deserted the auditorium of our Alma Mater, the above-mentioned youngsters became intimately acquainted with each other at the west entrance.

The argument arose over the question of Bybee's tripping up of Crawford. This would seem to the ordinary observer a very trivial matter, but to these two young gentlemen there was a high and noble principle at stake.

After "cussing" and "discussing" the matter both pro and con, they finally settled down to business.

When the chin music was over and the time for action was present, it was evident to the observer that Crawford, the Dashing Marine, was afraid, and that Bybee, the Business Boy, was glad of it. However, a pugilistic bout did come off.

The bout lasted about five minutes, and the running from then on. Neither of the young men secured a complete knockout, though Bybee received a black eye and Crawford suffered a bloody nose, resulting from one of the Business Boy's effective pothooks.

After further arguing for a while, they, as well as the spectators, became tired of imitating a Dutch windmill, and by mutual agreement decided to rest for a time. Just then, however, it was reported that Dean Rogers was approaching the scene of action in a determined manner. The participants took to their heels, leaving the entrance to the audience.

The only loss sustained by either party was that of wind. To the onlookers the controversy was an enjoyable occasion. The consensus of opinion of those present was in favor of a draw, although Bill Graves, the boy of the hexagonal freckles, argued for the next two weeks in favor of Bybee, who is reported to be

ENGLISH TEACHER IS REWARDED FOR BRAVERY

Mr. Turrentine Is Presented With Valuable Gift by Faculty Committee

On the sunshiny morning of April 1, 1921, Percival Dubyer Turrentine, debonair instructor of the King's English, of this institution, was presented with a Mexican handwork soup strainer by the devotional committee of the college faculty. Young Bishop Mouzon, in his charming, lady-like manner, orated the speech of presentation, paying a flowery tribute of two and one-half minutes to Mr. Turrentine for bravery in action. As everyone recalls, Mr. Turrentine braved the scorching sarcasm of stern students and effected an efficient effort to erase the flood of faculty jokes in The Oracle.

Mr. Turrentine came through the awful ordeal stained with all colors of printer's ink, his clothes ripped to pieces by barbed shafts of pointed smiles, but cleverly patched with college flanneling. However, he triumphantly waved a whole cider keg full of faculty jokes which The Oracle staff had intended for publication, when the cigarette smoke had blown away. Following the conflict, The Oracle was as successfully censored as a Sunday school magazine, no raucous remarks on the pedagogues being allowed.

Volley upon volley of hand-burning and glove-splitting applause followed Mr. Mouzon's speech. He had forever redeemed his title of "Fish," given him by loving classmates at S. M. U. In a dainty and becoming little speech of exactly thirty-seven minutes, Mr. Turrentine, without hesitation, accepted the gift. During the thirty-second minute tiny tears trickled from his eager eyes, falling into the superb soup strainer, which functioned fitly, straining the lachrymose liquid. Enough salt to cure a good-sized porker was soon obtained.

At the conclusion of the speech, which also concluded the program, the students ended the

FRESHMAN BUSBEE IS PLAYING HELL

The Reddie Bull hesitates to put forth this charge, but after a scrutinizing and ear-splitting investigation, The Bull believes that the true facts should be known, notwithstanding various herculean efforts to suppress the truth.

The fact is, Freshman Busbee not only has played it, but continues to do so real often. His neighbors have complained, and have drawn up a petition calling upon the student body and Busbee's friends to see if they cannot put an end to this playing.

It is specifically stated that Busbee played from 8 to 11 o'clock last night. The petition, in part, says:

"Be it known that we are neighbors of Freshman Busbee and that this alleged playing of his has been keeping us awake for weeks. We like Busbee and all that, but there is a point where friendship ceases and sleep starts. We held a meeting outside of his room and listened to his playing the other night. If it wasn't hell, it certainly sounded like it. Therefore, be it known that since this saxophone playing sounds like hell to his neighbors, we ask that an end be put to the said playing."

a nineteenth cousin to Graves by both marriage and death.

Peace now reigneth over the scene of action.

Humphries was telling her how he had been attracted to her.

"You were a lovely flower, and I was a bee. I was a mouse, and you were a piece of cheese."

And then he wondered why she left the room.

TIGER-REDDIE GAME FRAMED UP

Clever Co-Ed Correspondent Unearths Plan to Swindle Poor Public.

By MISS LENA GENSTA
(Co-Ed Representative of The Bull.)

I am sick at heart! Just think, my dear o'd Alma (I've forgotten her last name) has sunk to the level of the crooked White Sox. Yes, they framed up the Thanks-giving game with Ouachita.

Did you watch the game closely? I did. I noticed something peculiar about it. Oh, it is awful, 'cause all us girls paid out father's hard-earned money for the game, and they pulled a frame-up to mar it all. It was this way:

Out on the field was two goals, don't you-all remember? Ouachita was between the Reddies and one goal, but the other goal was absolutely undefended when the Reddies had the ball.

Now, instead of running with the ball to this undefended goal, Henderson framed up with the Tigers to only try to take the ball across the goal the Tigers were defending. It would have been the simplest matter in the world to grab up the ball and run back to the other goal with it.

Oh, it was all a frame-up! 'Cause Ouachita always stopped us before we got to their goal. We could have made one of those touch-things at least if it hadn't all been framed up.

I know this will be a big scoop for The Bull, but it's all the truth, and as soon as Mrs. Roberts' office opens I'm going to tell her all about it, just like she told me all about Jack, Caruso, and all those other great people she has shaken hands with and read in the paper about. She'll help me get the women of the faculty together, and we'll show them how to put an end to some of this crookedness in athletics, just like they put an end to faculty jokes in The Oracle. Yes, sirc, we'll start the college teapot boiling again.

Grass widows produce no seed, yet the crop never runs out.

"I don't wear a corset," said the old maid, "for fear they would call me 'Old Ironsides'."

Nearly every guy that marries for money earns it.

All married women travel under an assumed name.

DEAN MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM PEN

Dean Rogers is again free and breathing air without being in the hands of others. He has just effected a marvelous escape from his incarceration. He is still at large, but may be recaptured soon. Since September, 1919, Dean Rogers has been under surveillance. He has been tried several times. In practically every time of trial he came through with colors flying. But at last his opponents "got the right dope" on him. His actions of Hallowe'en, 1919, were the cause of it all.

Acting Governor Turrentine, assistant to George W. Creel, has put a ban on jocular statements concerning teachers, so Mr. Rogers has escaped at last from the facile pen of The Oracle witticist.

WHAT WOULD YOU HAVE DONE?

I was standing on a corner all alone. I had been standing there for about an hour. A nasty wind was blowing. She came along. Just as she got in front of me, the wind blew her skirt 'way up. I didn't move. I had been there for an hour.

"Fresh!" she cried, "go away from here!" I—but what would you have done?

PRESIDENT WORKMAN IS ASKED TO RESIGN

With feeling in the barraeks running to a high pitch and caustic comment spreading like a blue haze over the campus, a momentous action was taken. An almost unheard-of thing has happened in this quiet, peaceable school. Even cautious co-eds are commenting critically and caustically upon the action. It promises to prick the balloon of hopes for certain individuals in this sector. It has been done! It can't be undone!

Prexy James Mimms Workman, our exalted president and efficient money-raiser, has been asked by a committee of lowly preps to resign himself to his inexorable fate. The Doc may as well do this, for nobody has ever yet been able to dodge his fate. This is the only question of the year on which the faculty and students have been able to agree. Fate is no doubt a mean customer. Even Wicked Wesley Mellard, the Unpassionate, cannot outrun or slip by his fate, so what chance will the Doc have? Alas, poor Doc!

ENGAGEMENT OF VOICE TEACHER IS ANNOUNCED

We are pleased to announce the engagement of Miss Lella L. Wheeler. Miss Wheeler has been with us for four years, and we have all come to love her. She has been close to the hearts of the boys, who reverently call her "Maw." Miss Wheeler is a number of years old and has never been married before, but now says she is contented with life, especially since Miss Corkill has been married to "Dear Sammy." We wish Miss Wheeler much happiness in years to come, and may her only troubles be little ones.

Yes, we are glad to announce the engagement of Miss Wheeler as voice teacher for another year.

AGONY QUARTETTE MAKES NOISY DEBUT

The Agony Quartette, composed of Messrs. Binford, Workman, McDonald and Cummins, appeared before the Insomnia Class yesterday, during which appearance it rendered several selections.

The first number was "Dan, Dan, the Lavatory Man." This was the first rendition of this rumbling, romantic rag before the class, but it made a heavy hit. It tells the pathetic tale of old Dan, who spent his life handing out towels. The rumbling efforts of the quartette added much to the local color of the song.

Mr. McDonald next sang a sorrowful solo in several spasms, entitled, "Father, Get the Axe, There's a Fly on Baby's Head."

Mr. Guitar Cummins was clever in a squeaking rheumatic ukulele duet, played simultaneously with both his hands.

Mr. Shimmy Binford in his trembling whippoorwill tenor sang "He Slept in the County Jail," by request.

Mr. Susy Workman fiddled the little ditty, "Going Crazy," accompanied by the Scott orchestra, composed of Thomas D. Scott and Pi An.

The last selection by the four broke up the class. It was entitled, "Who Cut the Sleeves Out of Grandma's Vest?"

Note: The insomnia of the class was cured.

DOOLITTLE DARNERS ENTERTAINED ON LAST AFTERNOON

The Doolittle Darning Delegation was entertained yesterday at 1:30 o'clock by Mrs. Georgia B. Willey in a beautiful new gingham gown. The party was the regular weekly affair and was given in honor of Mrs. Louie Hall, a recent acquisition to local married circles. The guests were daintily met at the front door by little Miss Ivory Soap, who removed their wraps and small change. The visitors and guests were assembled in the draughting room, where they spent three hours chatting and meeting the guest of honor, while waiting for refreshments to be served.

Soon the house was buzzing with social chatter and darning needles. Miss Francis Matthews won the rubber ice-pick given as a prize for the daintiest piece of handwork. She won it with a dainty little peek-a-boo, although Mrs. Gervas Hollingsworth was a close second with a charming pair of lace-trimmed B. V. D.'s with silver-plated button holes. Mrs. Milton Young took the perseverance prize. She worked all afternoon darning one sock belonging to her big-footed husband.

After the guests were well fatigued and the conversation had turned to eating, Miss Spha Gaddy served light refreshments clad in a white fluce dress and cobweb stockings. The delicious refreshments consisted of a one-course luncheon served on a paper picnic platter. The one course consisted of shredded sardines on cabbage leaves and dishwater punch with cream of wheat cookies. Dainty dillpickles featured the lunch. After the guests had eaten and were hurrying away before dishwashing time, the usual animated farewells were said, and the delightful affair ended.

The hostess was one of the most charming widows of her day. She was exquisitely gowned in green tulle, with lavender underskirt and lace stockings, reinforced by lisle union suits. She wore an heirloom in her hair, and her purple shoestrings were marcelled in the latest fad.

The guest of honor was absolutely beautiful in a scarlet and green peignor, which she surprised her friends in. The dress was decorated with Italian frapery and Brazilian pasmentry. The house decorations were as artistic as the hostess. Included in the well-decorated household appurtenances was the wood-box, draped with gourd vine and filled with dog fennel. The gas light was covered with bright gray cheese cloth, while a pair of stuffed Hindu owls gave a wise look to the dining room mantel. The underside of the dining room table was also well decorated with wads of Spearmint after all was over. The remainder of the decorations defy description.

During the afternoon Miss Bennie Rush lost her family toothbrush, which has been in her family since the Pope sent out his first papal bull. However, it was found under the wax doormat before the afternoon had passed. Miss Johnny Whitfield left behind her beautiful lace raincoat, but returned shortly for it.

The next meeting of the Darners will be with Miss Imas Hotaza Poker in her beautiful Bohemian boudoir in No. 4 West Central.

FOREWORD

Bull!

Ah, what a great word! How often we run across it in the classics; how important a part it plays in the drama of life! The foundation of college degrees! The thing that makes the grass grow green; the thing that makes a girl part with her first kiss! Ah, bull! It is found everywhere.

The Bull is a wonderful thing. Grazing on the pastures of men's pates, Bull makes most professors bald. (Look for yourself about you.)

The object of Bull is both persuasion and disuasion. Bull is to man what a hairpin is to woman. "Bull" makes the world go around."

As The Reddie Bull goes to press he wonders whether he will be received in the spirit that he attempts. The Bull knows you have to watch him. If he does not stick to facts, signal him with a red flag, and he will attend personally to your case.

Bad bull and bum bull are still all bull.

This is all bull!

COWS

Lo, the poor cow! Female by nature, she must chew, and gum not provided, the cud sufficeth.

To my sympathetic soul, the cow is the most patient of all examples set before us. Her calm, submissive nature touches the tenderest of my heartstrings. Beautiful cow! I love her! And such treatment as is generally hers!

I have known cows that fed a family, raised a mortgage, and provided an automobile, with no reward or recognition whatever other than a meal ticket on Nature's garden, with now and then a bucket of bran thrown in for Sunday dessert.

Let us arouse ourselves, countrymen, and inaugurate a nationwide Movement for the Uplifting of the Cow. To her is due the popularity of our breakfast foods. She sacrifices her babies on the altar of gormandises. Gracious cow! We salute thee.

Let us implore her forgiveness, gentlemen—we who have been neglectful of her in the past—and today let us make a solemn vow that her future shall be brighter. Let us provide for her a private garden wherein no fly shall be permitted to fly, where only the most delectable of greens shall grow, and where she may receive her gentlemen friends. And henceforth, when we drive away in her auto, let us wait a kiss to her over the greensward and wave our handkerchiefs in fond adieu.

The man who knows he has a cow only when he milks her should drink his coffee black.

ORATORY

Oratory is a de luxe edition of common talk. At one time it was the exclusive privilege of men. Now it is also used as a substitute by women for thought.

At one time, in producing oratory, it was necessary to mount a rostrum. Rostra, however, are no longer used, except by back numbers. They have been succeeded by the college auditorium, soap-boxes, and even flat surfaces.

Every orator must have a pair of arms and a pair of lungs. Everything else, including brains, grammar, and manners, is unimportant.

Oratory is the longest distance between two platitudes. Its success depends upon how much it depresses you when it is being delivered and how little it impresses you afterward.

CHAPEL

Chapel, like earrings, is one necessary evil. It is a place of large dimensions, little enjoyed. There is the little chapel on the hill, but we are talking of the chapel in the college.

Chapel is a place where pious professors can prophesy, prattle, punctuate, and profane. It is a place where the faculty can show off. Here one can tell his family history and get by with it. Here one stands the best chance of getting a good laugh at one's jokes, because therein are some who would laugh at even a funeral.

Chapel is the bugbear of students. It is the cream of life for the professor. Chapel is a good place to sleep, but when one hears a terrific "no," or something like that, he is liable to be dreaming of trying to kiss a little sweetie and getting no results.

All hard work and no plagiarism makes chapel talks dull. Many chapel talkers have learned this valuable lesson. Many others have learned the old gag of "I have ONE wife and blank children."

Chapel must be endured, so let's make the best of it, even if the sleeping is hard.

P. S.—Chapel is also for announcements, around-the-world prayers, and solos by the voice teacher.

BULL

Are you thirsty?

According to our fashion critic, Mr. Humphries, one is considered well dressed if he has on Boston garters and is smiling.

Ten years ago today Andrew Christie celebrated his second birthday with a party. Dancing and card games furnished enjoyment for the evening until the milkman came.

This year's quartette is a howling success.

All work and no plagiarism makes a dull chapel talk.

STUDENTS CHARGED WITH EXTRAVAGANCE

Toujours! The students of Henderson-Brown College rose in arms today against the management of the dining hall. Their demands were for more food and less study.

The faculty called in a special agent to unearth facts concerning the matter. According to the startling revelations of the s. a., boarders are given half as much as they pay for, a thing entirely out of keeping with the principles of the authorities. The food also is entirely too rich for students. Meat should be served once a month instead of once a week.

The management is said to have changed the brand of "zip" once in the last three years. This is a needless waste.

The attitude of the boarding students was very offensive, stated the investigator. They all, without exception, thought there should be enough bread to go around each meal. They did not relish "Mal's Special," which is composed of scraps from different meals. Some even demanded that "oleo" be discarded for butter. Never were such faultfindings heard of before.

Another demand of the students was that steam heat be turned on before classes on cold mornings. Some even demanded hot water once a week for bathing and scouring purposes.

The investigator recommends that more cornbread and greens be served, and that plenty of nice plain water should be available for drinking purposes.

BOOK, JUST OFF PRESS PRESENTED

That enlightening and noble work, "L. L. L." was formally presented to its dedicatee on tomorrow morning at chapel. The presentation declamation was given by Miss Damfi Kare. The book is the only one of its kind in existence, but is a clever and true account of various happenings. No speech of acceptance was made.

THE REDDIE BULL

H. B. C. HEADMASTER IS HORSEWHIPPED

Headmaster Holmes is in a serious plight today as a result of an unusual happening that occurred to him last night. About 10 o'clock Mr. Holmes was called from his home by an unknown person. Some time later his family was startled to see several men bringing him home on a stretcher, his body being badly lacerated. Mr. Holmes was unconscious at the time and could not explain his plight. Wrapped in bandages and propped up with pillows, he related his experience privately to a Bull reporter this a. m.

It seems that he hurried to the fire on Richardson street and helped the firemen. He was left alone with a hose line. Heavy pressure was turned on, which jerked the nozzle from his hands, it flaying and whipping about in such a manner as to severely injure him. He will recover.

Note: We are sorry the head-setter placed an "R" in the last word of the heading.

NEW ORGANIZATION IS FORMED HERE

Announcement has just been made of the installment in Henderson-Brown of a new organization known as the "Bootlegger" chapter of "The Old Corn," an organization which has been in existence since July 1, 1918.

The requirements for membership are very strict. Four quarts are necessary for admission, provided that the said four quarts are composed of good yellow corn. No wood alcohol is tolerated.

The official pin is in the shape of a small fruit jar, with an ear of corn engraved in the center. The motto of this organization is "Eat, Drink, and Be Merry, for Tomorrow You'll Be Dry." The chapter looks for a very successful future.

CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH, Hot Springs, Arkansas

REV. MARION S. MONK, Pastor

This beautiful and commodious structure of the Central Methodist Church is the sixth building in which the Methodists of Hot Springs have worshipped, having lost three by fire, the other two by expansion.

The pastor, Rev. Marion S. Monk, is a true shepherd of his flock and ministers to his people with love and tenderness.

The many visitors that come to Hot Springs find a welcome in Central Church and, like the Pharos of old, its beacon light of service and salvation leads the multitudes from far and near to a knowledge of the Christ.

A welcome awaits the sinsick
and sad,
A welcome awaits the good and the bad;
A welcome so royal, so warm
and so true;
A welcome to strangers, which may mean you;
A welcome awaits the young and the old,
A welcome in weather hot and in cold;
A welcome awaits old friends or the new—
This welcome so broad is meant for you.
